LIBRARY NEWS

Jemima - Leonara Starr

A light love story involving a beautiful Scotch girl who is not aware of her own beauty, and who casts a spell over her enchanted admirers - only Gavin seemed unaffected. This will probably appeal to teen-agers as well as those who like light fiction.

I'll Be Seeing You - Henry Barry

The inspiring account of how a totally blinded veteran learned to adjust himself physically and mentally to a life of darkness.

HOME AND SCHOOL BAKE SALE

The October meeting of the Terrace Bay Home and School Association opened with the singing of "O Canada" Monday evening, October 17th in the Public School. Mrs. D. Porter presided over the meeting and welcomed all the members. Mrs. F. Ginn read the minutes of the previous meeting and the Treasurer's report was given by Mr. Joe Wig.

Ways and Means Convenor, Mrs. G. Flater reported that a Bake Sale will be held on November 11th in Bucovetsky's Store. The sale will consist of home baked rolls, bread and pies, so keep this date in mind. Mrs. Lois Hopper announced the forthcoming visit of Dr. S. R. Laycock for the next Home and School meeting. This meeting will be held on December 5th, so Mrs. Hopper reminded everyone there will be no November meeting. Home and School Association members from Schreiber and Marathon will unite with the Terrace Bay members for this occasion. Watch the Terrace Bay News for further information about Dr. Laycock, and please keep this date, Dec. 5th, open. The members were requested to bring along to each meeting written questions or suggestions for the question and suggestion box. A panel will be chosen to attend to the questions and will decide which are relevant to the Home and School Association and they will then be acted upon and brought forth before a general meeting.

Mrs. Porter read a letter from Mrs. I. Marsh, concerning the Department of Education Concert series. The first concert will be held October 20th. Mrs. Marsh asked for full cooperation so that these concerts could continue.

Mr. Wilson, teacher in the High School, convened the programme for the evening with each of the three principals, Mr. Morrison, Mr. Kenney and Mrs. Locking participating. Each gave an informative talk with different views and opinions on the report cards the children receive. Mr. Kenney showed a film which enlightened the parents on this subject and all agreed that the report card should be thoroughly understood and should bring the school and parent closer together.
