Page 9 KIWANIS DISCUSSES 1956 PROJECTS

The main item of business at the Kiwanis Club meeting of Tuesday evening was the discussion of 1956 boys and girls work projects. Al Harrison and Jim Fraser first presented plans for the annual ice carnival on April 7th. More on this later in future issues.

It was decided to further improve the park at the Aguasabon River mouth and to post a large sign on the highway so that tourists could find the park. An extensive work program at the wading pool was hown consisting of a cement walk to the pool and various landscape improvements.

The boys and girls committee is also investigating the possibility of starting a girls cooking school on Saturday mornings

The Kiwanis Club also decided to sponsor the Terrace Bay Fish Derby under the chairmanship of Tom Williscroft.

Other projects were discussed and these will be presented at a later date.
