STOP LOOK AND LISTENDANGER IN USE OF CARBON TET.

The California State Department of Industrial Regulations, Division of Industrial Safety has again issued a warning to the public about the use of carbon tetrachloride, and their warning is underscored by the Bureau of Adult Health, State Department of Public Health.

Because carbon tetrachloride is not explosive, users are often lulled into thinking it is a safe solvent. ACTUALLY IT IS ONE OF THE MOST HARMFUL OF THE COMMON SOLVENTS.

Most of the carbon tetrachloride injuries come from breathing the vapours. This can produce severe and even fatal damage to the kidneys and liver.

Authorities have come to the conclusion that more than one part of carbon tetrachloride in 40,000 part of air is dangerous. That is the equivalent of half a teaspoon of carbon tetrachloride vaporized in a room 10 feet long, 10 feet wide and 10 feet high.

People are warned not to rely on their sense of smell to detect carbon tetrachloride danger, for if its odor can be detected the concentration is well beyond the safe limit.
