LIBRARY REVIEWS

WRITTEN ON WATER Vicki Baum
The beautiful, fabulously rich Tracey Cowles loved adventure and excitement. She and her husband, Prince Barany sailed into Mazatlan where they met Glenn Hammers, black sheep of the wealthy Hammers family of San Francisco.

Glenn is busy trying to raise money to start a co-operative shark fishing venture to supply United States drug companies with suddenly valuable shark livers. He is deeply in love with the lovely Mexican dancer, Vida. When Tracy promises him five thousand dollars for his venture if he will captain an old top sail schooner to the dangerous Galapagos islands, he leaves without a backward glance. The trip that follows is extremely exciting and ends with the death of one of the principal characters.

Cancer can happen to anyone from 1 to 99, every race and creed, rich or poor.
The cost of research (like the cost of living) is terrific and your help is needed. Please give with your heart when the canvasser calls at your home this month. Remember you may need the help next.
