ART CLUB NEWS

Although small in numbers, our local Art Club has been active and enthusiastic all winter and is now busy making plans for the balance of the year. Samples of our work are to be sent to the Lakehead to be shown at the Area Conference to be held there this Spring.

We have done a lot of new work this winter, most of it under the instruction of Mrs. Limon of Fort William, so hope to have an Exhibit sometime in May. If so, we plan on having paintings from other towns in the Lakehead Area.

An afternoon sketching class for the summer months has been discussed and if there is enough interest shown it will be tried out in June and July. This would be a good opportunity for beginners to try their hand at landscapes. Oils wouldn't be necessary. Pastels are quicker, easier and much cheaper for the amateur to start with.

The regular meeting is every Thursday 8 to 10 in the large meeting room at the Rec. Centre, and visitors are welcome.

HORTICULTURAL SOCIETY NEWS

One of those hear-it-all-wise youngsters of the newer crop was overheard chiding his mother about spinach: "First you make me eat this junk so I'll grow up big and strong, then you complain to Dad that I keep growing out of my pants."

In contrast to this youngster's quip is the membership status of the Society. To do a good job we need more members. To attract members a premium is being given with membership (closing date for premium is March 31) fees of one dollar. See a member of the Executive and join now.

The next time you buy packaged vegetables have a good look at the label, they may be some of the newly processed vegetables which can be deep frozen for better storage. This is one of the many interesting points which come to light at the Society's meetings. Gardening is fascinating and always a good subject to discuss - (less volatile than hockey, politics, etc.) - So join now and share your views.
