ANNIVERSARY ISSUE

This issue of the Terrace Bay News contains a supplement which commemorates a decade of progress for the Community and the people of Terrace Bay.

Records indicate that a start on the first building in Terrace Bay was made in March, 1946. However, it was ten years ago, on November 12th, 1948, that pulp was first produced at the Kimberly-Clark Mill here.

It seems, therefore, to be a good time to sit back and review more than ten years of history in the life of Terrace Bay.

We appreciate the messages written for this issue which sum up the various aspects of the past and the future for the Community and its people.
