LABOUR DAY MESSAGE FROM MILL UNIONS

Another Labour Day observance is just ahead. Once again our country will celebrate the outstanding achievements of the working men and women who are helping to make Canada a great industrial nation. One of the ideals of working people throughout the country has been and is the prevention of death and tragedy, disability and hardship...with safer work, safer working places and safer workers.

Labour organizations have worked hard to promote safety on the job and great records have been achieved by workers in all types of industry. One of the basic ideals of unionism is the protection of the working men's health and happiness but so often these same safe practices we use on the job are forgotten at quitting time.

For every worker killed in an accident on the job two or more are killed in an accident away from the job. We must learn to take our safe work habits beyond the plant into the home and on to the highway.

During the Labour Day weekend we urge everyone to be alert; don't take chances; drive with caution, courtesy and common sense. Impatient drivers are potential accident makers. Drive at a sensible speed--avoid alcohol and watch out for the other guy!

Following the Labour Day weekend our children will be returning to school. It is our duty to drive with care and protect them from accidents so as to protect their future.

Make this a safe - and enjoyable - Labour Day Weekend.
