HORTICULTURAL SOCIETY (Cont'd from page 6)

Mr. Van Kerkoerle presented the Judges' Award for the most outstanding exhibit entered in the Show and Mr. Reg. Cotton, on behalf of Local 665, Pulp Sulphite and Paper Mill Workers presented Ainsley Middaugh as winner in the Senior Section and Carl Connors as the Junior winner of the Junior Garden Club with the Union trophies and their prizes of cameras and flash attachments.

Many other prizes were presented to both Junior and Senior members of the Society for their exhibits.

The show committee this year was chaired by Mr. Willie Mantey, Vice-President of the local Society and his co-chairman Mrs. Don Husband, and they were assisted by members of the Executive, Frank Ginn, Mrs. M. Middaugh, Alphonse Desrosiers, Angus Fraser, Mrs. Con. MacDonald, George Maitland, Roland Scowen, Harry Goodfellow, Mrs. N. Hubelit, Mrs. M. Pluta, George Partington and Mrs. J. Rousseau.

EDUCATION FOR SUCCESS IN BUSINESS

(The following is an excerpt from a recent monthly letter issued by the Royal Bank of Canada, Head Office, Montreal, Quebec.)

The young man preparing for business should not regard his high school matriculation certificate or his university degree as a ticket to a job, but as evidence of education completed to the best of his ability and resources. Mere training for a job ticket does not produce a full man, ready for opportunity; it may, in fact, produce little more than a mechanical, unthinking, man, doomed to stagnate in routine.

When he walks out of the school door for the last time, a young man should carry with him knowledge that enables him to stand up in life without a fence around him.

He should know the answers to these three questions, and be prepared to go on from there: 1. Where am I, What sort of world have I got into, 2. Where am I going, What is my ambition for betterment of my material, intellectual and social state, 3. What had I better do under these circumstances? What special faculties have I to develop,

The sort of education required in business is the kind that teaches men to meet real situations adequately. That sort of man will not think meanly of his job, but will think greatly of his function. He knows that wisdom, not a bag of tricks, qualifies him for his business.

TERRACE BAY TO MEET DISTRICT TEACHER QUOTA

Each year the Department of Education hope that different localities will send a sufficient group of young people from their secondary schools to Teacher's Colleges to meet their own requirements. Northern Ontario have not always met this challenge and have had to depend on Southern Ontario to supply the teaching staffs of their schools.

Three young ladies, Diane Beddard, Myrna Crandlemire and Sandra Locking and two young men, Dick Rowson and Ray Husband have enrolled at Teacher's College in North Bay. With Dale Willoughby of Schreiber also attending this means that this District are meeting the challenge.
