NIGHT SCHOOL CLASSES

On registration night, October 7th, sufficient registrations were made to ensure a class in Basic English and the class will be started as soon as supplies are on hand. Five registrations only were received for Mathematics so that no class will be offered in this subject. Typing, however, presents a problem. Less than the required fifteen registered, but the number is high enough for the High School Board to hold their offer open another week just in case there are some interested persons who intended to register--but didn't.

If such people would please contact the High School (Ph. 3345) this week it may still be possible to provide the typing class.

CURLING CLUB NEWS

Well, the response to this year's membership drive has been pretty terrific and, as a result, it looks as though we're going to have approximately twenty rinks entered for regular Club play. Most of the regulars will be back as well as some new faces and a few of those who haven't curled for a year or so.

If you haven't entered your rink or if you are not on a rink and wish to curl, fill out an application form. These are available from your executive and some are posted on the Mill bulletin board. We wish to get all the applications in by November 12th so that we will be all set to go on the (Cont'd Page 4)
