

FRIDAY NIGHT SHOPPING

For several weeks now the merchants in Terrace Bay have kept their stores open on Friday evenings for the convenience of the public. This paper believes that the merchants are to be commended for this progressive step as it gives the people the same opportunity for late shopping as is available in larger centres.

Perhaps a good percentage of the shoppers are not yet accustomed to late Friday shopping but it would be unfortunate if, through lack of interest, the merchants have to discontinue the practice. However, it is not conceivable to us that it will be necessary to do so when one overhears the many young mothers enjoying themselves shopping on a Friday night with the youngsters safely at home.

The mother with small children obviously appreciates the chance to shop without the added chore of baby-watching and, as other shoppers recognise the advantages of late shopping it will probably become as popular here as it is in larger communities.

FALCON FOLLOWINGS

The meeting of March 18 opened at 6.30 with the Antelope Patrol forming the colour party. Inspection followed immediately and next was a fast game of Grab.

At Patrol Corners the boys of the Antelope Patrol talked of changing their name to the Eagle Patrol while the other scouts discussed tests and a St. John's Ambulance Course. A lively game of British Bulldog was played next.

A series of talks on Camp life was started with the hopes of having a better Scout Camp this year. A member from each patrol took notes that would later be discussed at Patrol meetings. The meeting ended at 8 o'clock with Antelope Patrol lowering the flag and the Lion Patrol receiving it.
