

TOWN TOPICS (Continued from Page 2)

Norma and Len Crockford with daughter Carla are home from their holiday in Thessalon visiting parents Mr. and Mrs. Harry Goodmurphy and Mrs. Carl Crockford, and also to Espanola for a visit with Norma's sister and Len's brother Mr. and Mrs. Earl Crockford and in Sault Ste. Marie to visit another sister of Norma's and brother-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Gerald Walker.

COMMUNITY CHURCH LADIES PLAN BAZAAR

A varied program induced a large attendance of members who were greeted by the President Mrs. Virginia Galvin to the regular November meeting of the Ladies Auxiliary Monday evening in the Terrace Bay Community Church. The opening hymn was accompanied by Mrs. Margaret Simmer and Scripture and Prayer led by Mrs. Clara Gould. The very lovely "Lost Chord" was played on the violin by Miss Ellen Ceasar, during the Devotional period.

Business proceeded with minutes by the Secretary Mrs. Alice Farrow and the Financial report from Treasurer Mrs. Helen West. Reports from other convenors were heard. Mrs. H. Brooks announced that next month Rev. Anderson would speak on "Theme of Peace" and, in keeping with Christmas, the Harmony Belles would pay their annual visit with Christmas music and Mrs. G. Olsen and Mrs. A. Farrow would demonstrate the decorating of small cakes.

Mrs. Galvin thanked Mrs. Elva McMillan and Mrs. Bea Williams who were co-convenors of the annual Moose Banquet and the ladies who worked with them. The members discussed a change in the weekly flowers for the Altar, and this will be looked into further. A donation was approved for the John Milton Society. Mrs. Helen Brooks outlined to the Auxiliary the cost of providing sixty surplices for the Childrens Choir and the members agreed, together with the afternoon group, to provide these surplices.

In place of the usual Christmas Gift Exchange the ladies again expressed a desire to bring a new or good toy to add to the Boy Scout Toy Chest.

The Christmas Bazaar has been set for Sat. November 26 from 2.30 to 4.30 in the Church Hall, convened by Mrs. Gwen Olsen and Mrs. E. Berndtsson. A very special attraction this year will be the addition of the Childrens Choir who will render Christmas music from the Choir Loft during the afternoon. The young people will also be represented by the C.G.I.T. girls who will sell chocolates and telephone book covers at their booth, and also by members of the Hi-C Club who will be present to take orders for their Tree top Christmas Star ornament.

A limited number of light fruit cakes and steamed puddings will be available at the Bazaar, no orders being taken this year, and there will be the usual Bake Table, Tea Table, Cookie Tree, Children's Christmas Tree, Apron Table, Novelty Table which will feature many felt items this year, a Knitting Table with articles for all ages including scarves and socks, helmets, mittens, infant sweaters and doll clothes and a new one to look for - the Sniffle Tree.

Following Benediction Mrs. Brooks introduced Mr. W.F. Colborne, Principal of the Public School in Terrace Bay, who gave a most timely address on "Education for Peace", in keeping with both the national Education Week and the approaching Remembrance Day. Mrs. Elicia

Evans-Smith thanked Mr. Colborne and Mrs. L. Mercure expressed the members thanks to Miss Ceasar.

Mrs. Irene Goodfellow and Mrs. Ruth Paget demonstrated the making of fancy sandwiches to the ladies and tea and lunch were served by Mrs. Noreen Coe and her committee.

The Afternoon Group of the Ladies Auxiliary met Monday with Mrs. Elsie Ostling in the chair. Mrs. Vida Laporte accompanied the opening hymn and Mrs. Ostling led devotions.

The members worked on wrapping small gifts for the Christmas Tree at the Bazaar while discussing the sewing of surplices for the Childrens Choir which they have undertaken. Other members may be called upon for assistance. The Afternoon Group will join the Evening Auxiliary in their annual Christmas Party and voted to give their donations towards the cost of the surplices in place of their Christmas Gift Exchange. Tea was served following the meeting.
