

SPORTS --(Continued from Page 9)

When Lou Duquette with Len Crockford, Ken Johnson and Dan Kenney represented this Zone were Norma Crockford, Hilda and Hugh Brophy, Paul Boudreau and Len Swirhun.

to take this opportunity to gratefully acknowledge the contributions to the evening's entertainment made by Adamos Orchestra, Cosmo Filane and Tony's Groceteria who donated all prizes and favours.

CURLING A FAMILY GAME

That the curling "Bug", when it enters a home in Terrace Bay, is a contagious one, is evidenced by the fact that on the winning Northwestern Rinks this year both the husbands and wives on each rink are ardent curlers. Mr. and Mrs. Louis Duquette are each on a Terrace Bay rink which competed for further honours at the Lakehead. Len Crockford's wife, Norma was in Club competition to represent Terrace Bay at the Club Playdowns, as did Marj Hamilton's husband. Ann Latour and her husband are both ardent curlers and Peg. Welling's husband, Jack, though not in Northwestern playoffs this year has competed in the Playdowns twice.

SUPERIOR CINCH TOP SPOT IN TUESDAY'S GAME

In Tuesday night's game in Terrace Bay the Superiors faced a determined Red Rock team but emerged the victor with a score of 4 - 3. Calder, Stachiw, Osmar and Schock were the scorers for Sups, bringing their total points to 29. Last League game next Tuesday.

SCHOOL MUSIC AND CHILD NEEDS - The following excerpts are taken from an article written by Alfred L.E. Bishop, for the Teachers Magazine.

All normal children are active, creative and imaginative beings, and the music teacher in the school must not ignore these facts. The child lives in two environments: one, the shielded and directed world of his parents and teachers; the other, a make-believe world of play. The successful teacher (Cont'd Page 11)
