CANADIAN SKI PATROL ALWAYS ALERT

The snow of the last couple of days gives a brighter picture to local skiers who, after many hours of labour preparing their club houses and slopes, have been faced with one of the lightest recordings of snow fall in many years.

Just as there are policemen to enforce laws in towns and cities, there are also policemen to enforce laws on the skiing slopes. These policemen on the slopes are members of the Canadian Ski Patrol and, besides making skiers abide by the rules of safe skiing, their main job is to tend to the unfortunate ones who are involved in accidents.

The Ski Patrol has been affiliated with the National committee since 1954. The government sees the patrol as a charity and any donations (which are always needed) given to the patrol are deductible from one's income tax.

Three main requirements for patrol members are either the Red Cross or St. John standard certificate, knowledge and ability of handling a rescue toboggan and being a better than average skier.

Mr. George Vanderlip of Schreiber is a member of this patrol and has, in the past, demonstrated to district residents, some of the fine training given to members of this patrol.

BROTHERHOOD WEEK OBSERVED FEBRUARY 19 - 26

Brotherhood Week in Canada, Christians and Jews getting together to promote common ideals--will be observed February 19th to 26th.

Prime Minister Diefenbaker heads, as honorary chairman, the Canadian Council of Christians and Jews sponsoring the week, an annual event in Canadian communities since 1948. Purposes of the week are:-

1. Give people an opportunity to rededicate themselves to basic ideals of respect for other people and human rights "which are essential to our way of life."
2. Dramatize practical things which can be done to promote an understanding and realization of these ideals.
3. Enlist the support of more people in year-round activities to "build brotherhood."

The Council of Christians and Jews is an association whose members seek by education to promote "justice, amity, co-operation and understanding among people differing in race, religion or nationality. It recognizes that there are fundamental and important religious differences, and it in no way reduces religion to the lowest common denominator."

Along with Mr. Diefenbaker, a Baptist, the co-chairmen of Brotherhood week are Louis St. Laurent, A Roman Catholic and Hon. I.C. Rand dean of the law school of University of Western Ontario, a United Church of Canada member. National year-round chairmen are Rhys M. Sale, Protestant, O.B. Roger, Jewish, John D. Hayes, Roman Catholic and Hon. Gaspard Fauteux, Roman Catholic.

unites these two worlds and draws from them his material for a progressive program of work and play. In the first three grades of school all the various evidences of rapid growth are continually coming to the fore, and so it is with voice-development.....

Now let us consider the eight to eleven-year-old group..... This should be a good, productive period from the academic side and musically we have a fine instrument in our control. The boys' voices are superior to the girls' and both groups will give us some moments of real pleasure.....

We now turn to the least understood and the most misunderstood epoch in our growth, "Adolescence". This group is beyond the ordinary singing-game stage and so we turn to more complicated works such as Operettas. During the course of preparing and presenting a project of this nature the physical and emotional needs of the participants are satisfied.... a wonderful opportunity to develop acceptable, meaningful and inspirational music.

In the ordinary classroom there are, for important reasons, no non-singers. There may be several with limited ability, but they are part of the group and as such BELONG. This sense of BELONGING is of great importance at every stage of life, and the teacher must never ignore it.

When a child is singing with others he is not only thinking of what the group is doing but also of his own contribution to the effort.

A life without spiritual growth is arid and deficient. There are many factors contributing to this phase of growth and music can be and is one of the most important.....

If, in our school music program we accomplish nothing more than to draw the young child and the adolescent a little closer to the Infinite Spirit of God, we have handed on the greatest of our heritages.
