FIRE DEPARTMENT RECORD BROKEN

CLEAN UP -- DON'T BURN UP - is our monthly slogan, now that Easter is past and we have prospects of an early Spring. With warmer weather, furnaces can be let almost out during the day. IT IS IMPORTANT that furnace pipes and chimneys be checked. They have accumulated great amounts of soot and other residue from the long winter burning of wood, coal and oil. Here is what happened to the John Doe Family in Terrace Bay:-

The day had been lovely and the Doe's let the fire go almost out. In the evening as it started to get chilly John, the good provider, went downstairs--threw some wood and coal on the fire and opened up the drafts. He then returned to his easy chair and favorite program "The Rebel". Pretty soon the family smelled smoke--John ran downstairs and found the pipes from the furnace red hot. He called his wife to phone the Fire Department and, luckily for John, his fire department arrived in time or it could have been disastrous.

DON'T LET THIS HAPPEN TO YOU. It only takes five minutes to check your pipes and another twenty to do the work if it's needed. Remember "CLEAN UP - DON'T BURN UP". Only you can prevent fires. Make sure your furnace pipes and chimney are clean and in good condition. Fire is not fussy where it burns or how much damage it does.

CANCER SOCIETY PRESENTS REVIEW OF FASHIONS

On Wednesday, March 29th Dev. Porter's Sportswear Shops and Larri-Jean Maternity Shop, both of Port Arthur, presented a sparkling preview of Spring Fashions in the Community Church Hall to a capacity audience.

Sponsors of the show were the local officers of the Cancer Society.

Suits, modelled by Judy McCranor, Nadia Slusar, Jean McComb and Betty McCranor led off the fashion parade and featured textured wool--pleated, full and slim skirts and cropped jackets. Larri Matthews was the hit of the show as she modelled maternity clothes for every occasion.

The popular walking suit and the "ready for travel" flat knits vied with the new easily cared for cottons for a place in the smartly dressed woman's wardrobe and coats in jewel tones, desert shades and soft pastels were in fine wools and "all weather" material.

Separates, slims, patio pants, bathing costumes (complete with the new flowered bathing caps), shorts in several lengths, lingerie et cetera, all in the latest colour combinations, swiftly progressed down the aisle.

New designs in white uniforms were modelled and little tots clothing, though not modelled, was on display.

Those attending were welcomed by Mrs. Bea Williams and Mrs. George Maitland thanked the management of the stores for their co-operation. Mrs. Bev. Porter was Commentator and Rene Charier presided at an organ imported for the evening by Laskin's Furniture Store.

Officers of the Terrace Bay Branch of the Cancer Society served dainty refreshments after the show, assisted by several volunteers. Besides Mrs. Williams and Mrs. Maitland other officers of the Society are, Mrs. T. Latour, Mrs. J. Beddard, Mrs. M. DeRosier, Mrs. J. Brooks Mrs. J. Heenan.

YOUTH CONFERENCE IN KENORA THIS WEEK

On Thursday morning twenty delegates from the Terrace Bay Teen Town will leave for the Annual Northwestern Ontario Youth Conference at Kenora. They will leave by train from Schreiber, along with delegates from all other communities east of the Lakehead, who will be picked up enroute.

During the Conference, the teenagers will hear two noted speakers, Mr. H. Parsons, Lakehead Area Planner, and Dr. M. Grapko. Following lectures, the young people will break into discussion groups in an attempt to discover ways and means of upgrading Teen Club programmes and better preparing members for adult life. There will also be several social functions during the four-day programme.

Accompanying the local delegates will be Counsellors Mrs. J. Ferrier, Mrs. J. Duncan and Mr. P. Frederickson.
