At the meeting Tom Smith presented to the membership a floor plan of the proposed new Club Room.

The Curling Club has been granted permission to build on to the west end of the present curling rink.

At this meeting a Finance and Building Committee was appointed with the hope of the Curling Club being in a position to start construction this year on the new building.

Rune Ostling, as last year's President, and his executive, have done a lot of hard work in making plans for a new club house. It is hoped that interest will be maintained by the Club membership as a whole to make possible the start of construction this summer.

There is more planning work to do before construction of a new club house can be started and all members are urged to watch for further meetings on this project and to support the Club executive and the committee who will be responsible for getting the project started.
