Letter to the Editor

Dear Editor:

I would like to express my views, as a taxpayer, on the subject of the proposed District High School for Schreiber and Terrace Bay.

I have neither heard, nor read too much about it, but from what I have learned, it seems to be an excellent idea.

I fail to see why there should be any opposition to the school, as it would certainly benefit both towns, and from the taxpayer's view, it would be to Schreiber's advantage definitely, as there would be a lower increase in taxes, as opposed to Schreiber paying all the cost of their own school.

My children are much too young to worry about High School, or any school, as yet; but if the district school comes into being, I will know that all the facilities are there waiting for them, a mere eight miles away.

Think of the savings if we all won't have to send our children away to Business College or Technical School, miles, and possibly days away from home.

Outside of some kind of rivalry that seems to exist between our two towns, (which no one will admit has anything to do with the school), I can see no reasonable opposition to its being built, and soon.

These are just my views, and I thank you for taking the time to read my letter.

Yours truly,

A future-minded Mother.

Ed. Note - The questions are still being asked and the murmuring continues. One of the latest indicates an uneasiness on the part of some Schreiber citizens who point out that there is no assurance that Terrace Bay is permanent. Our questions have elicited the information that "there is no likelihood that the investment represented in the Town and the Plant will be allowed to deteriorate and also that, in the remote eventuality that such should ever come to pass the one hundred and twenty Schreiber citizens who are gainfully employed in Terrace Bay represent a large part of their Town's economy.
