before you in words; your mind, that can judge accept or reject propositions presented to each by your reading. God gave you also the opportunity for training and education, without which the ability to read would be denied to you.

"Be grateful that you can choose" - Instinctively your conscience tells you that there is good reading and bad; reading matter that helps you morally and spiritually, and reading matter that degrades you. "Be grateful that you have God's Grace added to your own will power to reject reading that will hurt you; reading that will add without reason to the inevitable temptations of life.

"Be grateful that you can help" - If one is convinced of the fact that the ability and opportunity to read represents a tremendous privilege, it follows logically that one will be saddened by the fact that there are so many who neglect it. It follows that one will want to do everything possible to help the cause of good reading, so that more and more people may profit by it.

Read the Catholic Press yourself, and do what you can to spread its influence among others. Let this be your motto for Catholic Press month.

March 17 is St. Patrick's Tag Day in town. The Resolutions Committee will be the convenors for this project. Lunch was served by the Girl Guide Committee.

KNIGHTS HONOR EGINO SPADONI

At a recent meeting of St. Edward's Council No. 3554, officers and members had the honour of presenting a Life Honorary Membership to Brother Eginio Spadoni.

This honor, reserved for members seventy-five years old with twenty-five years continuous membership in the Order, was the first to be presented by St. Edward's Council.

Brother Spadoni joined Port Arthur Council of the Knights of Columbus May 23, 1926. He maintained membership there until the formation of St. Edward's to which he transferred September 25, 1952.

In making the presentation, Grand Knight, Mike McGrath, congratulated Brother Spadoni on having attained this milestone, saying he hoped that his health would allow him to maintain active participation in the activities of the Order for many years to come.

A venerable old Scot purchased a little radio set, and a few days later his friends asked him how he liked it. "Well, ti's aw richt to listen to," he replied, "but those bulbs are nae so guid to read by."

NOMINEE FOR SPORTSMAN OF THE YEAR

At a time when many communities are honouring their outstanding sportsmen we present to our readers Terrace Bay's Stan Hodgkiss - recently elected Chairman of the Canadian Wild Life Federation, committee who are engaged in formulating a constitution and preparing preliminary steps for presentation to Government Officials in March.

Starting with the Northwestern Ontario Conservation Federation (of which group Mr. Hodgkiss is past president) Stan, by his dedicated work advanced to the Provincial group - the Ontario Federation of Anglers and Hunters.

The Northwestern Federation is zone one (the Province is divided into six zones) of the Ontario Federation and is composed of 15 clubs. The Provincial Group boasts 147 clubs with approximately 17,000 members. Mr. Hodgkiss is President of this group.

Becoming aware that similar groups operate in most provinces of Canada and in the Northwest Territories, Mr. Hodgkiss carefully planned and took the initial steps to unite all under a Canada wide federation.

The fruits of his efforts were realized with the formation (during October 1961 when Provincial Representatives were attending the Resources for Tomorrow Conference) of the Canadian Wild Life Federation.
