SCHREIBER PERSONALS

Mr. & Mrs. Bob Wood, Carl and Bonnie are visiting relatives in the Wood family in Snow Road, Perth and other nearby centres.

Dr. Gordon Porter of St. Thomas is in charge of Dr. Cornell's practice while the latter takes a summer vacation.

Mr. & Mrs. Nelson Smith have with them Mr. & Mrs. D. Jones and Margaret of Ottawa. Last week their guests were Mr. and Mrs. A. Johnson, Bruce and Randy, of Port Arthur.

Mr. and Mrs. J. Varrin and their family of Port Arthur are holidaying with Mr. and Mrs. Charlie Holmes.

Mr. and Mrs. Bill Mullins have with them at camp the former's brother and his family- Mr. and Mrs. Ray Mullins, Margaret and Raymond, and another niece, Evelyn O'Grady, of Cormac.

Mr. and Mrs. Innes West had Mr. and Mrs. Sam West of the Soo, visit them en route to the west coast.

Mr. Eddie Gerow drove to the Soo over the weekend with his sister and niece, Mrs. McEwen and Miss Mary McEwen of Fort William.

Mrs. Bill Weaver has received word from her sister Mrs. Herb Foss (nee Dodie Harper) of her husband's promotion in the RCAF in Germany. Flt. Ser. H.R. Foss has been nine years with the RCAF, spending the last year with the "4" Wing at Baden-Solenger, and is well-known in this district where he was formerly with the O.P.P.

The following girls have gone to the C.G.I.T. camp at Loon Lake - Daryl Lynn and Wendy Weaver, Charlotte Ross, Sandra Clemens and Mary Violet Lang.

Wallace Harvey and his grandson, Michael Wesbe, of Peterborough, were here this week, a happy re-union for the former with many old friends.

LOST AND FOUND - R.V. BRADY, DEPT, OF LANDS AND FORESTS

The tale about the Indian who said "Me not lost--tepee lost", had its sequel in the Lake Nipigon area recently. A party of two fathers and four sons from St. Charles, Minnesota, set out on the big lake for a few days of camping and fishing. They travelled by boat from the mainland to a group of islands near Shakespeare Island. After selecting a campsite, they were unloading their gear when the fathers realized they had forgotten to pick up fishing licenses at Beardmore. Leaving the boys at the camp, the two men set off to correct their oversight.

With licenses in hand they returned to the lake, but to their chagrin they could not find the camp, the boys or the island. After a few hours of searching, they once again headed for Beardmore, this time to enlist the aid of the Provincial Police. A search was organized using the Department's patrol boat "Ranger IV" from MacDiarmid. Later in the day an aircraft was brought in to assist, but by nightfall the location of the camp remained a mystery.

The next morning the search was resumed and the boys were finally spotted from an aircraft. As they had the provisions and camping equipment with them, they suffered no ill effects. The boys, unaware of their plight, wondered why the boat and aircraft kept patrolling the area the previous day.

We suspect the fathers will be reminded about this trip to Ontario for many seasons to come.

"Are you quite sure you can cut your meat?" asked Mrs. Hoosis of the neighbour's little boy who was being cared for by her during the temporary absence of his parents.

"Sure," was the bright answer, "we often have meat just as tough as this at home."

EVERYBODY PROFITS FROM CONSERVATION.
