MINORS WIN (Continued from Page 4) several outstanding fielding plays, with Dan Schock and Cliff Wood also strong.

Bob Coates, with 3 hitsand 3 RBI's, led the SPORTING GOODS SFECIALISTS hitters, as every member of the team reached base at least once.

Both teams hope to travel to the Lakehead for games in the near future.

LOST AND FOUND ARTICLES

Many "Lost and Found" articles from the summer swimming programme and summer play ground programme are being held at the Recrea- CAMP HEATERS: ALITA. MEIME SAFETY tion Office until claimed. There are also many items found at the Recreation Centre and Arena.

These articles will be held until the end of September, then forwarded to a Lakehead Charity.

TEEN CLUBS UTGED TO STAND FOR SOMETHING

Quetico:- "Community teen clubs should influence the conduct of teenagers in their daily lives," Dr. Michael Grapko told dele gates attending the seventh annual youth leadership course at the Quetico Conference and Training Centre. Dr. Grapko is professor of pshychology at the University of Toronto.

Participating in the course from Terrace Bay were Ainsley Middaugh, Annette Comeau and Kit Knauff.

Organizations can be classified in two groups," Dr. Grapko said. "One is a membership organization where people belong For what ity programmes branch, Fort William, was cothey get. The other is the reference organization."

"The reference organization is the kind in their daily life. Good examples of referenceorganizations are the churches, boy scouts, some professions and the family. Conduct away from the organization is influenced by the degree to which the individual feels strongly about what the organization stands for, then he will behave in reference to the ideas, opinions and values expressed by the other members of the organization.

"Some of the things that a community teen club might stand for are abstinence from use of alcohol or tobacco during teens." Dr. Grapko suggested. "It might also stand for giving of self in community service. One of the functions of a teen club might be to do service work so that members begin to feel the satisfactions that come from giving of one's self in the service of others. This would obviously influence young people's atti ude about work and responsibility."

Dr. Grapko told the young leaders that one the purpose of the organization. "All activities in an organization are then related to those purposes. For example, one of the purposes of teen clubs is to give experience and insight into demoratic living. Understanding chosen trade. of democracy must be learned and young people must learn how to function as responsible citizens. Teen Clubs could help youth realize this purpose. "

Each evening during the six-day course Dr. Grapko presented a paper on purposeful youth clubs followed by discussions by the participants.

Miss Margaret Phillips, director of recreation at Kenora, led sessions on teaching methods in social recreation and community singing. John Faulkner of Atikokan taught

Kenmac's Jackle

CHECK OUR PRICES CIN

AMMUNITION:

C.I.L.

GUNS LTD.

GUNS: GUNS LTD.

CAMP STOVES: GOLEMAN

SLEEPING BAGS: PIONEER

GUN LICENSES SOLD EVERY FRI. & SAT. P.M. KENMAC'S TACKLE - PHONE - 3549 234 McDonald Ave. TERRACE BAY.

effective speaking and basic dramatics.

R.F. Lavack representative of the community programmes branch, Dryden, used parliamentary procedure skills as an example of a process which people use to work democratically in groups. Mr. Lavack cautioned the participants against falling into the trap of seeing parliamentary procedure as an end instead of a means. Too often we think an organization functioning well if it abides by correct parlia mentary procedure but fails to achieve its goal. "

I.B. McCauley, representative of the communordinator and also taught programme planning.

The Youth Leadership Course was sponsered by the Northwestern Ontario Recreation Directors, that influences the way in which people behave the Community Programmes Branch of the Ontario Department of Education and the Quetico Conference and Training Centre.

6.30 Father Knows Best

FIRE AT WALKER LAKE

A fire which broke out in the early morning hours (Sept. 5) caused over five thousand dollars worth of damage to Dr. J.M. Cornell's recently renovated summer home at Walker Lake. The interior is almost completely ruined but, despite shattered windows the exterior was saved.

SCHREIBER BOY APPRENTICE HAIRDRESSER

Frank Muia has established a precedent in Schreiber and quite likely in the district by being the first boy to begin apprenticeship as hairdresser in a local salon.

A few boys have learned the barbering trade here but small Frank is the first to serve in a salon.

Tony Commisso, under whose guidance Frank is of the first jobs of leadership is to identify learning, says this apprenticeship is customlary in Italy, and while the customers were somewhat surprised the first week of Frank's tuition they soon looked forward to his courtly manners and admired his deft progress in his

LONG TIME RESIDENT OF SCHREIBER DIES

The funeral of the late August Nelson, 84 whose death occured in Port Arthur Hospital, on September 7th after a fall at his home in Schreiber, was conducted in St. Andrew's United Church in Schreiber on September 10th, by Rev. T. Garnet Husser of Terrace Bay.

The honorary pall bearers were; J.O. Milks; Frank Driscoll, Dudley Cardiff, Cyril Sparks, Tom Bolan, W.B. Simon and W.R. Black.

The active pall bearers were; (Contid on Pg.?)