LABOR DAY MESSAGE

MILL MANAGER'S LABOUR DAY SAFETY MESSAGE

Labour Day will soon be here. As a day dedicated to all who labour in any way, it was established to honour the dignity of work and the contribution of work to human progress.

No man can contribute to human progress and not benefit directly as an individual. This is so even though the benefit may be only the simple satisfaction of a job well done. Often the contribution of many individuals toward achievement of a common goal benefits everyone in an entire work force. We have living proof of this right now in our current safety achievements.

The individual efforts of everyone on the Kimberly-Clark payroll here are about to achieve something never accomplished before in almost 15 years of mill operation, by Friday of this week, a record of 300 consecutive safe days will break all of the safe day records previously established at Terrace Bay.

I trust that the stimulating experience of this accomplishment will renew our determination to achieve even greater goals. Let's work the balance of '63 accident-free and then go on to continue this fine record through 1964. By so doing we will gradually raise the standards which Labour Day was established to honour.

J. A. Ferrier,
Mill Manager.
