Mr. Burroughs congratulated the school staff and graduates and said that commencement is a word which might seem out of place on such an occasion but, since each end also marks a beginning, so it is in school life. He warned graduates to have a purpose and to pursue it. "Until now your efforts have been directed by trained minds but now you must make your own decisions regarding your future--how best to accomplish your goal in whatever field you choose and learn to be your own disciplinarian. The awards presented tonight amply demonstrate your ability. When applied, this basic background of a sound education should be of inestimable value, giving you confidence to proceed. Learning alone will not create a satisfactory life. Without principles one's inner being can be destroyed and the best rules to adopt are the Commandments (which you learned at home.) Add to these the Golden Rule and your success, in fame or financially, will be complemented by your content within--with which every man lives, regardless of what the world sees on the outside.

You carry with you the hopes and aspirations of your parents and your school and upon them is cast the reflection of your behaviour."

Secondary School Honor Graduation Diplomas were then presented to Edith Adamo, Ivan Cocks, John Cosgrove, Donald Farrow, William Garvin, Laurie Mae Marcella, Stephen Morrill and Arthur Trudeau.

A Commencement Ball and refreshments served by The Home & School Assoc. concluded the evening.

Cuthbertson's Honored by Community

A. W. Cuthbertson, popular manager of the local Bank of Montreal who has been transferred to the Lakehead and Mrs. Cuthbertson, were honored at a community farewell party held in the United Church Hall, when Rev. Fraser Muldrew was M.C.

As the couple entered they were presented with a corsage and boutonniere, the gifts of Mrs. H. Martinson. The audience appreciated two skits--"Lizzy" by the C.G.I.T. dramatizing the motor trip by an elderly couple in their ancient car, the cast being M. Nesbitt, S. Clemens, M-E. Gerow, C. Ross, D-L. Weaver, G. Worrell and Brenda Duncan. The second depicted the problems of a teacher attempting to cope with ill-behaved children and was presented by the U.C.W.

Rev. Muldrew led in a singsong accompanied by Mrs. Bill Miller. The words of one number were composed by Mr. Muldrew for the occasion. Another tribute to the couple was a poem read by Mrs. Miller and composed by Mrs. H. Weaver. Mr. Cuthbertson has been Church Treasurer, member of the Board of Stewards, active on the St. John Branch (Cont'd P.12)
