FASHION SHOW (Continued from Page 4)

teen clothing were Sharon MacDonald, Christine Chepelsky, Betty Lou Cavanaugh, Virginia Pineault, Norma Chesley, Colleen Kenney, Margaret Ann Pineault and Lita Marie Boudreau.

Milady's choice could be sedately basic, softly young or extremely gay and bright in suits, shifts, evening wear, clever maternity wear and the ever-popular slims and summer cottons. Linens seemed prominent in the selections, most fabrics crease resistant and easy care, aimed for the travel wise.

A parade of cotton capers by Cathy Cavanaugh Pierette Valiquette, Alice Chepelsky, Vi Fedorak, Rita Caccamo, Margaret Santerre, Peggy Helmink, Yolande Boudreau and Jeannine Desrosier rang the curtain for the finale.

During the short break Miss Margaret Ann Pineault sang "The Old Lamplighter" and "Happiness" Accompanied by Miss Velma LeBlanc. Mrs. Alma MacDonald took tickets at the door and draw tickets were distributed by Mrs. Fern McDonald with the door prize going to Mrs. Dan MacFadyen.

Make up was prepared by Mrs. L. Plourde and Mrs. J. Kenney courtesy of Avon Products. Helping to dress the models were Mesdames R. Kenney, R. Cormier, and M. Nicol. Mrs. A. Connor, Mrs. F. Woodruff and Mrs. A. LeBlanc replenished in the kitchen when refreshments were served by members of the Catholic Girls Club.

HERE AND THERE

Patsy Thorpe celebrated her tenth birthday Saturday afternoon when seven girl friends joined in games and a twist contest. Birthday cake and party lunch were served and favors for going home.

Previously Mrs. Vic Thorpe entertained at a joint party for daughters Jeannie's thirteenth and Kathleen's twelfth birthdays with the assistance of Mrs. Bob Hofland. Kathleen's guests enjoyed dancing while Jeannie's friends went tobogganing, all returning for the party supper and two birthday cakes together.

Mr. and Mrs. A. Connors and son have returned from a trip to New Brunswick and Gaspe where they visited relatives.
