AS WE SEE IT

Someone recently handed us a copy of a 1963 Market Survey on Northwestern Ontario. The survey makes interesting reading with a particular appeal to business executives and, of course, an invitation to new business to establish in the area outlined.

We find, however, that although Terrace Bay may be anonymously included in the "value of construction chart" - "the square miles" indicated - "the population" - "the business activity (and payrolls)" etc., on the maps printed and in the "Statistics on major cities and towns in Northwestern Ontario" our town is among the missing. Those listed include at least five whose population is imilar or less than that of Terrace Bay.

No doubt our active Chamber of Commerce group will be interested in this omission.

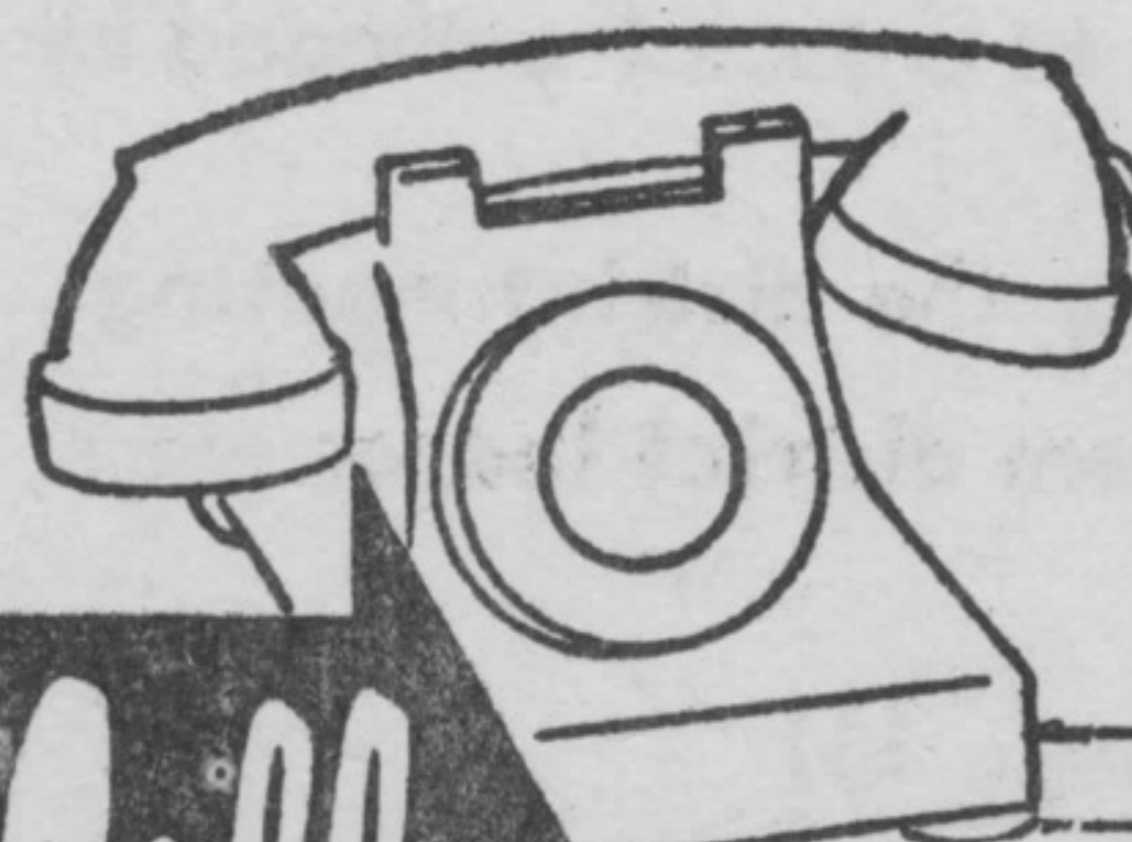

An egotist is not a man who thinks too much of himself; he is a man who thinks too little of other people.
