SPRING FASHIONS SHOWN IN MOTOR HOTEL

With the first hint of spring, fashions must be explored fully, and for this purpose Anford's presented their Spring Showing Thursday evening in the lobby of the Terrace Bay Motor Hotel, under the sponsorship of the Ladies Auxiliary to the Community Church.

Welcoming the ladies who came to view the latest fashions, Mrs. Kay Jeanneret, Commentator, noted that the fashions had never been more delightful as the moods changed and a softer more feminine look emerged. A softened silhouette look appeared with more curve, less angle. The popular A-Line and Shift continued in popularity.

A variety of fabrics were presented. Wool textures are very interesting ranging from smooth, tight weaves to delicious pouff fabrics with airy weaves and lacy tweeds. Rayons take top fashions honors this spring, many with dramatic prints worn for that special look, and beautiful floating chiffons so utterly flattering, knits were extended right to the coat fabrics, the very practical and popular cottons, with persuasive blends of terylenes, dacrons and arnells.

Delicate shades were seen most frequently, pink highlighted for prettiness, but included some sunny yellows and beautiful blues in addition to vivid tonic sparkle of the brightest hues.

Modelling the many daytime - playtime and special event outfits were Jennifer and Beth Hersey, Lois Ann Galvin, Michael and Raymond Kurylo, Irene Uzicanin, Barbara McMillan, Virginia Galvin, Shirley Hersey, Doreen Kurylo, Tina Young, Thursa Thompson, and Grace Brearley. Most notable in their selections were a new skimmer shift over shorts for sportstime, a clever eight-way, non-crushable clutch hat, and many clever innovations of the presently popular lines. Hairstyling was by Tony's and Mrs. Stella Brown applied the makeup.

Convening the event were Mesdames V. Galvin, L. Wilson, and D. Kurylo. Tea was served by Mesdames M. Lundberg, M. Welsh, E. Beddard, P. Kelty, B. Turner, F. Whitley, N. Crockford, A. Farrow in the lobby as the showing concluded.
