SEA CADETS INSPECTED

The annual inspection of Royal Canadian Superior Sea Cadet Corps by Lieutenant Commander C. E. Shaver, RCN was observed Monday by many friends and relatives of the cadets and officers as they assembled in the Terrace Bay Arena.

Assisting Commander Shaver was S/Lieut., P. Levy. Inspecting officers were welcomed aboard by commanding officer Lieut., J. Cumming.

A detailed inspection of the ship's company and march past preceded the presentation of annual awards. A new trophy donated by officers of Admiral Cradock and Vindictive corps was awarded for the first time to A/PO Bob McMillan as the best all-round cadet.

A trophy presented by the ship's chaplain, Rev. T. G. Husser for the best ordinary cadet went to Knut Schmiedschen. Schreiber Division was awarded the best division shield.

Commander Shaver said the corps is a credit to the Navy League and Terrace Bay.

He commended S/Lieut., Levy who had assisted him the past several years and who would be leaving the navy in a few days.

Also attending the inspection were Lieut. Tom Gustafson, commanding officer and Lt. Tal Morgan of the RCSCC Vindictive, Fort William. Parents and friends were invited to inspect the training area.

Mill Safety Talks Held

Marathon Corporation of Canada Ltd., was host to one of the most successful safety meetings ever held in this district when some 100 delegates attended sessions at Marathon June 3-4.

All ten member mills in the Ontario Northwest were represented at the annual meeting of Northwestern Ontario Branch (Mills), Ontario Pulp and Paper Makers' Safety Association.

Speakers included M. E. (Mike) Falby, Calgary, safety representative for Shell Canada Ltd.; D. B. Chant, Toronto, retired OPPMSA secretary-manager; Dwight Reid, Marathon mill superintendent, and Wally Lockhart, OPPMSA assistant manager.

The Branch award for 1964 for having no accidents during the year, won by Domtar Newsprint Ltd., Red Rock, was presented to mill manager J. L. Halter by Mr. Lockhart.

Mill employees Sam Baxter, Earl Moist and Norman Cook received individual safety prizes for first aid. The presentations were made at the dinner Thursday.

a supply of gas in the storage area. This was definitely refused as there was gas readily available in town in any emergency.

He--I admit it's a pretty small salary to get married on, darling, but I might get a job myself when our honeymoon's over.
