

FISH DERBY (Continued from page 1)

speckled trout which weighed 3 lb.12 oz. George Melander of Wabigoon received third place prize of a Smoke Kit and a Hunting Knife for a 2 lb.12 oz. fish. Fourth place was won by Rob McKechnie for a 1 lb.15 oz. speckled to receive two life jackets. A magazine subscription was won by Theresa Gaudet of Terrace Bay for her fifth place speckler weighing 1 lb.14 oz.

The Master of Ceremonies next announced the names of the special and hidden awards as he called Mrs. Irene Pacholczak back to the stand to receive the lady's prize for first fish entered in any category weighing nearest to five pounds. She received a table lamp, a silver tray, a utility bag and a $5. dry cleaning voucher.

In the children's prizes Elizabeth Coss of Terrace Bay registered a 3 lb.12 oz. pike to win the girl's 12 and under award of two velvet paint sets and a floating fish knife. In the boys' 12 and under class Tyrone Williams returned to take home a ball glove, a rod and reel and a floating fish knife.

Jim Miller of Lansing, Mich. took away the hidden prize for the last fish entered at five minutes to the deadline--receiving a utility pad and also the American Tourist prize of two days for four people at Blue Water Cabins and a copper tray as the largest entry in any class.

Eagerly awaited also was the draw for five $100 door prizes and these went to Gertrude Stark of Chicago, Ill., Wallace Giles of Manitowadge, Cass Harishney of Red Rock, the Todesco children of Sarnia and the really lucky Mrs. Pacholczak of Port Arthur. Councillor Ed Cavanaugh drew these lucky tickets and prize monies were awarded by Kiwanis President Bob Hales.

A dance Friday evening in the Moose Hall and the Stanger Brothers Shows for Friday and Saturday were added attractions to a very busy weekend and the Carnival atmosphere continued over with the local Kiwanians having various entertainment in the Arena.
