HIGH SCHOOL HOLDS FIRST SNOW CARNIVAL

The stamina and adaptability of Terrace Bay teenagers was well demonstrated during the first Winter Snow Carnival held at the High School on the afternoon of Friday, March 18th. Despite a progressive thaw, fog and steady rain, the students carried out their original plans with gusto, verve and enthusiasm. Divided into their four house leagues they tobogganed, played volleyball and "slush" (grass) hockey under conditions more suited to water polo or wading.

Moving inside to the auditorium they engaged in more strenuous activities--races, games and several powerful tugs-or-war. During these events the judging of ice sculptures was carried out. The entries were two monstrous figures, Yo-Yo and Debilman, an igloo, and a model of the school building. Mrs. Audrey Ferguson and Mrs. Jewel Scott selected the figure of Yo-Yo, built by Pat Simmer and George Dashkewytch's group, as winner.

Another event which was received with great delight by the onlookers was a pie-eating contest in which there were three entrants. George Dashkewytch ate his way to victory in record time. Later in the afternoon a Badminton match was staged. The team led by Jill Crandlemire and Ken Wood was the overall winners.

Dancing to the Bee-Jays rounded out the day and during the evening winners of the King and Queen contest were announced. Selected on the basis of participation and team usefulness during the days events were (Cont'd P. 8)
