Wild distribution and good bidding led to this four heart contract being bid and made in a recent match point game held at the Mount Baker Bridge Club in Cranbrook, B.C. The bidding shows good sense by the North-South pair as it was using minimum responses to show 12 to 16 point hands. North opens his four-card minor, South responds his good heart suit. At this point many players in North would jump immediately to game or would jump to three hearts with 15 points. But both of these bids are clearly incorrect for 15 points is still a minimum hand. If South only had six points and a five-card heart suit, he would still respond one heart to one diamond. A jump response would encourage slam and would convey false information about the hand. The simple raise of the heart suit is excellent, for South can say to himself, "my partner has from 13 to 16 points and at least three hearts." This information is vital for South counts a maximum 16 and his own 14 points, rules out slam and bids the game. An interesting sidelight to the hand is the fact that 3NT can be made but only realizes 630 points whereas Four Hearts makes five and a score of 650.

welcomed the delegates from visiting Leagues before turning the meeting over to Diocesan president, Mrs. M. Helmink who previewed the highlights of the National and Provincial conventions.

COUNCIL QUOTES

At a recent meeting of Terrace Bay Municipal Council the third and final reading was given to a By-Law providing for two year terms for members of Council.

Municipal Roads Supt., Jack Wellings made his report on the past few months' work around town. All work budgeted for has been completed except gravelling Lakeview Drive. His suggestion on this item was not to do part of a job but to budget for complete resurfacing in the near future. General maintenance has been carried out--all cracks filled and manholes made level with road surfaces. The financial aspect for the remainder of the year is excellent. There is sufficient money available to finance all snow removal operations until January, 1967.

Councillor Desrosier thanked Mr. Wellings for his report and the meeting proceeded.

Fire and police report were read, the latter noting two fires in September--one a car which burnt beside the highway and the other in the disused cement block works. Cause of both fires is still undetermined. A report from two volunteer firemen who attended fire training courses included a recommendation that the present rate of compensation be increased to meet existing wage levels.

Application will be made for a new pumper that can travel on the highway
