THE BIBLE TODAY

For Publication During the Week of
January 30 to February 4, 1967

Father Walter M. Abbott, S.J., recently appointed by Pope Paul VI to study the possibility of co-operation with non-Roman Catholic bodies in the field of Bible translation, production and distribution, recently visited the international headquarters of the United Bible Societies.

Commenting on the consultations, Dr. Olivier Béguin, General Secretary of the U.B.S., expressed deep satisfaction regarding the spirit in which the new development in Rome was taking place. "Any move which will encourage the wider use of the Bible," he stated, "is to be welcomed if it is an attempt to relate men more closely to the Word of God." Dr. Béguin pointed out that the new concern for the Bible in the Roman Catholic Church was essentially an evangelistic concern. "This," he added, "has played a preponderant part in the Bible Societies' readiness to seek, with the Secretary for Unity, constructive ways of co-operation."

Dr. Béguin also indicated that already in some areas Roman Catholics were co-operating in translation projects with members of other churches under the auspices of the local Bible Society.
