Think Spring and translate into raincoats. Presto! The pretty, posy look to chase away those rainy-day blues. Dainty flowers, pale pastels, bold stripes and wild checks bedeck vinyl, plastic-coated cotton, slickered silk and water-proofed blends. Sew a chic trench-coat spattered with daisies and spray on silicone waterproofing or cover with crystal-clear vinyl (treat the two fabrics as one rough-out construction).

Silk thread for basting is less likely to leave marks on precious velvets, silks and delicate fabrics.

Use a canopener? The era of the "Canned" dress is here! Ban-lon jerseys in gay Pucci-prints pop out of their can with nary a wrinkle. There's even room for a hat to match. Four different styles and a multitude of wonderful colours.

Clothes are worn to look attractive, to keep warm and to express your personality. We all strive towards an ideal, but the ideals vary according to our personality -- delicate, mysterious, exotic, chic, wholesome. If you let a friend influence you to buy a dress that is not "you", you'll never feel comfortable in it. It'll be another mistake in your closet.

Scallops on hem and sleeves spell feminine flare for a simple "skimmy". Make one up, using scallops on full bell sleeves in a lusciously lovely tint of misty lavender. Fashion creamy wool into a lean little suit closed with scallops centred with bone buttons. Cut a cardboard guide to follow as you stitch the scallops. Take one horizontal stitch at the points to make the turn smooth and pucker-free.
