OPENING LEAD: DIAMOND QUEEN

Responding to partner's opening bid with a very large hand of your own can be very difficult if you are strong suited. On today's deal, South has a count of 18 high card points and his partner has opened! Normal responses with the other three suits stopped are: 1NT with 6 to 10 points; 2NT with 13 to 15 points; and 3NT with 16 to 18 points. Our South makes a normal 3NT response and North is confronted with a problem. The combined point total from the bidding and from his own hand does not add up to 33, the normal amount for small slam. North chooses a rather unusual bid of 5C to show his five card suit and his intermediate strength. South can read this bid as unusual and takes the partnership to slam in no trump. The slam is unbeatable as South wins the diamond in his own hand and eventually loses the king of hearts on the finesse. When this hand was actually played almost all pairs went on to six hearts rather than the no trump game. One unfortunate pair had a mixup in bidding when the North player thought his partner's three no trump bid was a gambling-type three no bid and left his partner at that level.

Miss Gwen Hadley stated 64 new books are now in circulation. Members are presently selecting another assortment for order.

Two new study tables and twelve chairs were ordered.

Legal steps will be taken to collect a bill owed.

It was agreed that the book on gem stones may not be taken from the library.

Borrowers are advised that the book-mobile will be in Schreiber on April 26 and it is necessary to have all Co-Op books returned before then.

Librarian, Mrs. Hill, reported that 1,210 books had been borrowed in March 1967, a most favourable comparison with the 846 borrowed in March last year.
