KIMBERLY-CLARK WEEKLY SAFETY SLOGAN

Safety slogan contest winners last week were:- Paolo Buso , Clarence Mercier, George Nugent, Frank Speziale and Lillian Brassard.

Some people get the idea that safety is something to be used when it's convenient. At other times, it couldn't matter less. But how much sense does this make?

Accidents and injuries come when least expected. In fact a good definition of an accident revolves around the idea that it is an unplanned event.

So if it is the unplanned event that causes the trouble, perhaps we should all practice the message contained in this week's Kimberly-Clark safety slogan:

"SAFETY ALWAYS - ALL WAYS"

LAKEHEAD UNIVERSITY EXPANDS TO MASTER'S DEGREE

Starting this fall, Lakehead University will offer graduate studies leading to a master's degree in English, physics, psychology or mathematics.

A master's degree, next higher beyond bachelor of arts, takes two years of study after a three - year BA course or one year on top of the four - year honors BA program, President W. G. Tamblyn said.

In 1966 Lakehead University made a decision to award honors degrees in arts and science and the first honors class graduated in May 1967.

To qualify for a master's degree students must take graduate courses and write a thesis based usually on original research which contributes new knowledge. In the social sciences at Lakehead U this research is expected to be on local problems in Northwestern Ontario.

To offer this type of education the university has been making every effort the past few years to add highly - trained experts to its faculty. Each student in both arts and science master's courses will be assigned an individual member of the teaching staff to personally supervise research work.

The university now has resources to undertake research on a large scale and hopes, with co-operation and support of area business and industry, to tackle problems ranging from pollution to computer techniques in master's course research.
