It is four years since Premier John Robarts was given the honour of heading your provincial government.

In that time, he and his Progressive Conservative associates have achieved a remarkable record of accomplishment.

New and improved highways, schools and hospitals. Higher wages and lower unemployment. Assistance for the farmer, protection for the consumer and bold steps forward in housing, transportation and medical insurance.

Good government . . . the Robarts government . . . deserves your support on October 17th.

CONFEDERATION CARAVAN
HERE OCTOBER 7TH

The Confederation Caravan opens its one-day exhibit in Terrace Bay October 7th, bringing to Canadians the story of the nation and her people in a way it's never been told before.

You'll know the caravan's coming when you hear its mighty claxon blaring out the first four notes of "O Canada" as the eight giant tractor-trailers roll through town to the exhibit site early in the morning.

Because of its size it will be accompanied by a police escort on its way to the site. There, the drivers will arrange the colorful trailers in a quadrangle, set up the mobile regional exhibits, entrance gangways and bridges between trailers--and the show is ready to open.

From 11 a.m. until 11 p.m. daily, visitors can experience the development of Canada from primeval times to the present.

It's not a museum or an art gallery or a history lesson. It's more like a time machine trip to visit the people of all walks of life who lived and worked, laughed and wept in Canada before we came along.

Under manager George Moir this caravan travels 3,291 miles through eastern and Northern Ontario. It exhibits for 164 days, with one day for straight travel and 27 days off for the staff, generally on Mondays.

Another caravan tours Ontario west of Toronto-Orillia.
