WHAT CAUGHT MY EYE

- By Ray Shank

Windsor is great -- weather-wise, entertainment-wise and car price-wise.
 We've had two snowfalls here in the last month, on separate days and each about four inches. The next day it's 40 above, it rains and no more white stuff on the ground.
 Of course, if you're a snowmobiler or a skier, that's bad. I'm not a snowmobiler or a skier!
 Entertainment? Even Detroit doesn't get the big stars that appear a week or 10 days at a time at the Elmwood Casino. A few weeks ago Tony Bennett was here for a 10-day engagement. Last week it was Lena Horne. On New Year's Eve and the following week, The Gold Diggers (you know, those lovely blondes on the Dean Martin Show), will be featured. Elmwood owner Al Seigel boasts about the top-flight entertainers he's had here. "Don't compare us with Toronto, or Montreal, or even Detroit," he says. "Compare us with Las Vegas." Guess you have to believe him. Last July, the great Tom Jones was here -- for eight days and a six-figure salary (some say $125,000). Not bad for eight days' work. Among other big-names who have appeared at the Elmwood are Engelbert Humperdink, Sammy Davis Jr. Danny Thomas and The Supremes. Sammy Davis has been appearing at the Elmwood every year or two for the past 10 years. The Supremes, by the way, continued on page 13.....
