Chicago in the field of reading. She is editor of the Language Experience Reading Program and author of "A Case for Listening Instruction" and "Reading is Thinking". She has worked closely with the Ontario Institute for Studies in Education in several projects and has acted as chairman of the committee establishing demonstration classes at North Bay. She taught last summer at Durham University in England and has addressed several international conferences on reading. She is scheduled to speak at the International Reading Association conference in Boston next April, as well as several other major conferences.

Sister St. Edmund was born in Port Arthur and received her elementary education there. She attended North Bay Teachers' College, has specialized in primary education, and began her teaching career in Sault Ste. Marie. She has also taught in North Bay and Schreiber - where she enjoyed three years with the Schreiber Separate School system. A few years ago Sister took a course offered by the Ontario Institute for Studies in Education in teaching with Language - Experience Approach. She was one of the pilot teachers in North Bay and for two years has conducted demonstration classes at St. Mary's. Last summer she attended classes in England and visited schools there, and this year, accepted the position of Primary Consultant for the North Bay System. Sister St. Edmund enjoys her work with children and has an endless fund of classroom incidents to relate, such as the time she was asking her grade ones what they would like to be when they were big, and one small girl replied, "If I don't get a boyfriend, I'm going to be a nun".

G.S. O'Brien, school inspector also attended the occasion, and a book display was sent by Moir's of Toronto.

Other topics were discussed, and the two day event ended with open discussion headed by a panel. On Saturday, a luncheon was served in the Guild Hall by the Catholic Parent Teachers' Association.

COMMUNITY CHURCH AUXILIARY PLANS

So, finally a word from one who doesn't want to pull the Nash's Lake bit again—and doesn't want anyone else to have to go through such an experience needlessly either.

Most snowsleds don't come equipped with adequate storage space so get yourself a packbasfun. You'll never know you ordinarily would never explore and the beauty of the snow-covered forests is unimaginable unless you've experienced it. But it's a sinister beauty, in a way, and we hope no one gets irretrievably caught in it
