STOKES COMMENTS ON TELEPHONE DISPUTE

Member of Parliament, Jack Stokes, commenting on the telephone strike in Atikokan, says "the position taken by that Northern Telephone Co. in the present dispute with their employees, is discriminatory and indefensible." Their employees, doing the same work as those of Bell Telephone, who has 85% control, are grossly underpaid by comparison. The disparity between employees of both companies performing the same duties, runs as high as $1400 per year. This group of employees deserves the unqualified support of not only all unorganized labor, but the public, and the Department of Labor. When a large corporation such as Bell Telephone, enjoys a virtual monopoly of such an important utility, they have a responsibility to provide and maintain an efficient service, but not at the expense of employees of one of their subsidiaries.

It is high time the Department of Labor demanded that this Company accepts its responsibility to its employees and the public.

RECREATION COMMITTEE RECEIVES GRANT

Two special meetings were held in June by the municipal council when $60 was granted to the recreation committee to pay expenses of four going to take playground leadership courses in Terrace Bay on June 26-28.

It was agreed to accept the proposal of the improved lighting on the highway when the Department of Highways will bear 50 per cent of the cost and the Schreiber Hydro Commission the remaining 50 per cent. The cost will be recovered by the commission in 20 years through added service charges. The township will be responsible for the upkeep and initial charges.

At the regular June meeting the straw council from the Separate school was present - each sitting beside the position to which they were elected - Maureen Campbell, reeve; and councillors Kathy Guina, Jack MacIsaac, Danny Quigg, and Janice Wiznuk.

Reeve Harness welcomed the students, introducing them, and seating them at the council table, noting that Kathy Guina was taking the place of her father, former councillor P. J. Guina.

Fort William council sent a request that Schreiber endorse their request for an extension to study the Hardy report until December 31, but in the same mail was a letter from Darcy McKeough, minister of municipal affairs, re-affirming the date of June 28 for submissions regarding the report.

The Department of Highways stated that calcium chloride will shortly be applied on Kingsway where it runs through Schreiber), considered an answer to protest of ratepayers regarding the dust rising from the highway.

In reply to an application from Hertz Rent-a-Car council replied that there was already a car-rental agency in town and they doubted business would warrant a second agency.

H. J. Coe representing Schreiber and Terrace Bay on the Thunder Bay Health Unit, sent a detailed account of the last meeting. The resignation of Chief Const. Keith Scott was accepted. It was decided to advertise for a bylaw enforcement officer.

Ron Morris was granted permission to operate an auto scrap yard if he conforms to the bylaws governing such a business. Water bills of $575.11, and general accounts amounting to $949.80, were approved for payment. Council noted it could never recall such a small general account.

The apparent failure of the new spraying machine to control the blackfly condition, very bad this year, was due not to the method in which it was being used, nor the time of the day but simply to the most inclement and variable weather. Rain and wind, unexpected when the work is begun, destroys the effect. But, given a continuous spell of sunshine the spray will be effective.

Roger Morgan was present to ask for support of the recreation program, and $500 was granted for assistance. Mr. Morgan explained the swim-in-safety-program.

The biggest effort this year for the success of the program will be the voluntary contribution from parents of kids who will support the effort of the committee by giving time and interest in offering conveyance of the children to the beach.

Schreiber teenagers wrote asking that, in the rink improvements planned, some space, three rooms they suggested, be created for their recreation, and they are prepared to lend financial aid to the project.
