3,500 cerebral palsy children who can be trained and do respond to the highly specialized and expensive treatment that is given at over twenty treatment centres in the province.

The treatment is directed by experts towards training the undamaged part of the brain to take over the functions of the defective area to as great a degree as possible. In many cases near miracles have been worked. In other cases the results are slow.

The 1969 Easter Seal campaign must raise $1,500,000. in Ontario to guarantee that no crippled child in our province will go without treatment and assistance that he or she must have. Easter Seals have paved the way for expansion, progress and advancement enabling every crippled child in the province to reach his or her full potential. Easter Seal contributions have a life-long effect. It is good business and good common sense to support the Easter Seal Campaign.
