

THE ANGEL'S HARP

Thanks to the generous parents of the grade three students, the students were able to raise quite a bit of money during a bake sale last week. They intend to use the money for a special project they are planning - more about that later.

Pictured at left is one of the fancy cakes that was raffled. It was won by Suzanne Comeau a grade eight student.

Easter delicacy is certainly experienced in this snap shot at right. It is one of Ron Chicoine's favourites.

What will the future be? The grade eight class used this theme for and their imaginations to create future city plans. An underwater city was one of the answers to overpopulation. What about a Super-city on the moon? The display was very attractive and each project was well planned. Future architects of Schreiber? Town Planners? No?

Mrs. Joyce Jarosz - correspondent secretary; Rita Ross - treasurer; Norma McGuire - past president; Father Cano - Director.

Mrs. Stefurak, returned to office as president, thanked Fr. Cano for his advice and members for their cooperation and read an interesting but pointed bit of verse on the meaning of membership.

Mr. and Mrs. Burton Phillips and family are vacationing in the Barbados.

have presently 14 leaders and are desperately in need of others especially for Guides. The movement is sponsored by the C.W.L.

Mrs. Kay Stefurak who presided read the report she will present to the convention being held May 6, 7, and 8 in St. Elizabeth Church, Fort William.

Father Cano described some of the events scheduled for the convention urging that members make every effort to attend Wednesday May 7th when Mrs. Mathews who was on the panel discussing status of women will be guest speaker.

There will be a workshop, banquet, and social all on the same day. Members going are asked to contact Joyce Jarosz. C.W.L. are taking part in the Cancer Canvas April 26th. Mrs. Stefurak thanked members who assisted with the March tea and penny auction and local members who had donated. It was agreed to cater to Brownies, Mother and Daughter Banquet given in May.

Mrs. Irene Borutski, chairman of the nominating committee presented the slate of officers for the year who were installed by Fr. Cano: K. Stefurak president; Mrs. Rita McGrath - 1st Vice; Betty Ryan - 2nd Vice; D. Spikula 3rd Vice; Miss Marion Prescott - Recording Secretary - cont'd next column
