One hundred and ninety-one attended the sixth annual mother and daughter banquet of the Girl Guides and Brownies held in the Guild Hall. The Catholic Women's League, who sponsor the movement in Schreiber, provided the meal and were assisted with the serving by the United Church and Anglican Church Women.

Tawny Owl Mrs. June Sisson welcomed the mothers and introduced head table guests which included White Sand District Commissioner Mrs. Mary Shack, Aquasabon District Commissioner Mrs. Shirley Caron, Mrs. Bill Stefurak, Rev. E. C. Prinselaar, Mr. and Mrs. Keith Scott, Mrs. Arthur Moorey.

Grace was sung and toasts were proposed as follows: to the Queen, by Alanna Power; to Lady Baden Powell, by Betty Ann McKenna; to the Guide Mothers, by Ann Kulmatycki; to the Brownie Mothers, by Beverly Duffy, Mrs. Sonny Duffy responded for the mothers.

Madam Commissioner Mary Shack introduced the Guides, Acting Captain Mrs. Andrea Hill, Lieutenant Wilimiena Prinselaar, and welcomed new leaders Lieutenants Rose Hiard and Rolande Welsh. Blue leaders: Brown Leaders—Brown Owl Agnes Dietrich, Tawny Owl Janet Kulmatycki, Tawny Owl Audrey McKay of first Pack. Brown Owl Marcella Cembrario, Tawny Owls June Sisson, Betty Huard, Dodie Kirkpatrick, and Packie Dale Sisson.

She lauded the Guides for the time and effort they spend training the girls and in addition planning and preparing programs, songs, games, crafts camping, etc. and although they do this willingly, they do need the support of the parents. She mentioned with regret the loss of Guide Captain Mrs. Ellen Campbell and wished her happiness in her new home.

Tawny Owl Janet Kulmatycki, who has passed the basic and elementary training and is now a warranted Tawny Owl was presented with her Tawny Warrent pin by Mrs. Shack.

Guest speaker Acting Captain Andrea Hill was introduced by Mrs. Shack. Mrs. Hill said it is hard to be torn between Guides and outside pressures especially when TV attracts and friends tease. She could remember her own experience when as a young Guide being called a GG-Goody Goodie. To the older guides who will be in grade eight or entering High school this fall she said she hoped they would not feel guilty if they had to drop out of Guides due to increased demands on their time. Leaders are very understanding and will always remain their friends. She thanked Mr. and Mrs. Keith Scott who were their special guests at the dinner, Mr. Scott for making patrol boxes and Mrs. Scott for her patience in coping with the confusion in her home while they were in the making.

She announced there will be a gathering for Guides 13 and over in Terrace Bay on May 31, with Guides from Schreiber, Terrace Bay, Nipigon, Marathon and Manitouwadge attending.

During the dinner the girls entertained the guests with songs and Cathy Cocks, Brenda Cembrario, Linda Huard and Jade Dukes read an Indian Legend expressing the spirit of Guiding.

The prize for mothers was won by Mrs. R. Seidel, for the Guides, by Donna McGrath and for the Brownies by Eva Eusebi.

The centrepieces for the tables were made by the Golden Bar Brownies. Brown Owl Marcella Cembrario, announced a Brownie Revel is being planned, the date and site not yet decided, and asked for assistance from the mothers and fathers in overseeing the small children, lighting fires, and driving cars.

"No", said the girl's mother, "I don't want you to hit back at your little brother. Remember, you're a lady. Outtalk him!"
