

GOLF CLUB NEWS

At a golf meeting held last week, discussions on some minor rule violations revealed the interest and co-operation members entertain towards improving play procedure.

The complete absence of play supervision makes it necessary for a member to use ordinary common sense in course etiquette and interpreting playing rules.

For instance, if the course is fairly busy with a waiting tee, singletons and fivesomes are definitely taboo. No one should hesitate to gain a twosome or threesome. Golf is a social game where people should mix freely.

Cutting in on number five still is being done. The general attitude toward this violation is that no one should cut in if players are visible on number four fairway.

To lay down and enforce hard, fast rules on our course is undesirable and unnecessary.

There are times when the course is almost deserted. To enforce the above at such times is not only undesirable and unnecessary but would be a manifestation of very poor judgment and a dog-in-the-manger attitude.

A little common sense and consideration for fellow golfers is all that is necessary for the promotion of good fellowship and satisfaction.

Last Saturday saw the arrival of some very fine golfers who took part in an inter-club tournament with the Lakehead. Sandy Middleton, who again this year will be the club's pro, parred on round with a 35.

Sandy has put on a little weight but it doesn't affect his fine golfing. He will be here in two weeks so that anyone desiring lessons should register at the club house.

Sandy will also hold the clinics for which your golf committee has shown grand interest.

A hole-in-one on number 6 was shot by J. Heardy of the Lakehead during Saturday's tournament.

The result of last week's twilight tournaments clearly show the marked development and improvement among the best golfers with five scores under 40. The two ball mixed was won by Julie Rattray and Kit Thomas with a fine 42, another indication of improved golf.

The ladies' club appears to be very busy with tournaments and they love it.

The inclement cold weather is holding back the new greens and for a while fear of seed rotting was
