from the Lakehead were Bill Guy sports editor of the News Chronicle. Ken Nicholson of CKPR television, Gordon Houston a life member of the TBAHA, Ted Broughton now a member of the TBAHA executive. The latter two men had been associated with Jack during his term as president of the North Shore Hockey League.

Principal speaker at the dinner was Ken Ward of Manitouwadge, former Recreation Director here who paid tribute to Jack.

The dinner was chaired by Joe Adamo. Jack will take an early retirement this year and he and his wife Isabel plan to make their home in the Niagara Peninsula.

SUSAN GRAHAM GAVE VALEDICTORY ADDRESS

There was additional brilliance in Terrace Bay High School's Annual most sophisticated event when Graduation Ceremonies were held in the Auditorium last Thursday evening. While the cynosure of all eyes was, of course, the graduating class, the new facilities also claimed some attention.

Chairman of the evening was the Principal, Mr. W.W. Rowsome who introduced those occupying the new and colorful chairs on stage. He paid tribute to the retiring Board members, thanked Mrs. C. Simmer, who was accompanist for the evening, introduced the members of the staff and said that the beautiful decorations used in the hall were the result of many hours of work by Carol Sadowick and her committee.

The audience rose as Graduates entered the hall and remained standing during O Canada and the Invocation which was delivered by Rev. T.G. Husser

Reeve W.E. Cavanaugh conveyed congratulations to the grads from the Township then sweet-voiced Jane Persson sang "Goodbye My Love." Lake Superior Board of Education Director E.J. Morgan was Guest Speaker. Mrs. F. Cruikshank chairman of the Terrace Bay Committee of the Lake Superior erior

Board extended their best wishes to the graduates. She pointed out how, with the improved facilities the chance for a better education is also given to those who are not university material. She concluded by saying " May we also at this time wish the Lake Superior Board of Education every success in their future endeavours and hope that they will receive the same co-operation and help from the communities that we received during our term of office".

Mill Manager J.A. Ferrier extended the congratulations of Kimberly-Clark Pulp & Paper Co. and said that indications are that a Terrace Bay student may be this year's recipient of the Kimberly-Clark $2000. Scholarship. Another solo, this time by Lorraine Belliveau, who chose the lovely "Born Free" as her offering, preceded presentation of awards.

Mr. A. Chisholm made the presentation of awards for Proficiency to Susan Graham, Gr. 12; Lorraine Belliveau, Gr. 11; Claudette Boudreau, Gr. 10; and Cathy Melnyk, Grade 9. The students were also recipients of the Soughton Jewellers' Award which was presented by Miss Ruth Soughton.

Prior to presenting their certificates to the graduation class Cathy Melnyk played "Somewhere Over the Rainbow" on the piano a song fresh in everyones' mind these days since the death of the famous actress who introduced it.

Diplomas were then presented by Mrs. Cruikshank to Cathy Bailey, Linda Ballentine, Terry Black, Reid Boutilier, George Dashkewytch, Evelyn Fournier, Susan Graham, Gary Gusul, Peter Heenan
