This little lad with the winning smile is Stephen, 14 months old. His background is Canadian-Ukrainian and he is a healthy, sturdy little boy with lovely blue eyes, blond hair and fair skin. He is walking and very active, enjoying his new mobility. Stephen is accustomed to other children, both older and younger, and enjoys their company. He is alert and inquisitive with a real sense of humor. Though he loves rough and tumble games he also likes to be cuddled. Some noises bother him and he is beginning to be shy of new people, but he is normally happy and contented. This little boy needs warm, outgoing parents and would fit well into an active, family of children. To inquire about adopting Stephen please write to Today's Child, Department of Social and Family Services, Parliament Buildings, Toronto 182. For further information about adoption ask your local Children's Aid Society.
