1970 CADILLAC

The 1970 Cadillac has been further refined in appearance as a result of styling innovations and enhancements in the interior design. Body changes include a redesigned grille and front end, providing a lower and wider look without altering basic Cadillac styling. Cornering lamps at the front ensure greater visibility and safety and a quick-acting choke will improve starting performance. The Cadillac Eldorado model will feature the world's largest passenger production engine - 8.2 litres (over 500 cubic inches). The Cadillac Fleetwood Eldorado, shown above is distinguished by its 8.2 emblem on the front grille.
