ACTIVITIES START NEW YEAR

Several gala parties were held in Terrace Bay to herald the New Year, and the start of a new decade. The Curling Club held their annual bash for members and friends, and danced the hours away to the music of Kevin Mercier, Tony Commisso and Michael Madoni. A buffet lunch was served, and everyone had it a good party.

Legionaires, their wives and friends tripped the night fantastic to the music of George Churney, Bill Megraw and Ellen Hodgkiss, interspersed with pop music from some famous bands.

The Moose Hall had a very good turnout, where revelers danced to the music of a Marathon band. Favors and paper hats added to the gaiety. A cold plate was served shortly after midnight, and the entire evening was enjoyed by all those who attended. A private party was held in the Masonic Hall basement by Terrace Bay and Schreiber Masons, wives and invited guests. A punch bowl was featured, with lunch served after the midnight hour. Dancing was to recorded music.

A highlight of the festive season is the Annual Candle Light Buffet served at the Terrace Bay Motor Hotel each New Year's Day. This year again Chef Schmiedchen and his assistants treated the capacity crowd to an exciting collection of gourmet foods, tantalizingly displayed on long tables and it tasted as good as it looked.

Glazed turkeys bearing a "Happy New Year" looked much too good to be cut up. Whole hams, also glazed and beautifully decorated didn't take back seat to the traditional boar's head, complete with apple in its mouth. Salads, Holopchi, succulent ribs of beef and many more appetizing dishes filled those tables and, as always, there were quietly

"WHEN THE NEWS STARTED"

As a follow-up to our recent articles on "When the News Started", Mrs. Percy Sully of Rossport has sent issue No. 4 of the Terrace Bay News - dated December 20, 1946, the four page paper continues to bear the "Largest Circulation in Terrace Bay" headline and is the Christmas edition.

Greetings from Hamilton Craig, Manager (Longlac Pulp and Paper Co. Ltd.) and Ralph Williams, Resident Engineer, are featured on the front page, also the following article: -

"CHRISTMAS AND NEW YEAR GREETINGS"

"With the coming of Christmas and the imminent closure of another year it does one good to look back and take stock. We have seen our own little world at Terrace Bay grow from an unknown spot in the wilderness to a much talked about growing community.

We have grown ourselves. We are beginning to know each other better and know our jobs better. Our community and social life is taking on a new atmosphere. Our recreation centre is now the hub of activity from which emanate picture show, concerts, billiard games, card tournaments and church services. And this is only the beginning.

But Christmas time cannot be mentioned without thoughts of home running through one's mind. Old friends gathered round enjoying good Yuletide spirit.

Christmas is a time for thought, a time when we should appreciate the opportunity of living life in the way we want to live it in a country of free men.

We look to a New Year with great expectation - a year in which a big - cont'd page 8
