INFORMATION - taken from the Department of Transport Press Release

Last minute line-ups later this month for new motor vehicle licence plates could be worse than last February, the Ontario Department of Transport warned today.

The deadline for driving with 1969 plates is midnight, Saturday, February 28th. The plates have been on sale since December 1, 1969, at 28 issuing offices throughout Ontario.

The sale of 1970 plates for passenger cars, station wagons and motorcycles is lagging significantly behind sales at this time last year, and there are at least 76,000 more vehicles to be registered this year.

At the end of January, 529,876 sets of plates had been issued, or 25.5 per cent of this year's total of 2,077,945 applications.

In the first 11 months of 1969, 5,462 motorists were convicted of driving without current year plates
