EFFLUENT STORY TOLD IN THUNDER BAY

Last week Mr. John Ferrier, Kimberly-Clark Pulp and Paper Company Limited Mill Manager in Terrace Bay addressed the Kiwanis Club of Thunder Bay, presenting in detail the Effluent Story of the Mill.

His illustrated talk, while primarily dealing with pollution control here, did point out to his audience there are two sides to every story and that not all mills abuse their environment to gain profit. He said "I would venture to say that any pulp mill in Ontario built within the last 25 years has to some extent taken the pollution problem into account in their planning and I can make the flat out statement that Kimberly-Clark at Terrace Bay did just this and did it well".

He concluded his speech by saying "We could sum up our present plans to continue keeping up with or ahead of the stringent demands of government regulating bodies by:

(1) Greatly improving air emission within the next few years.

(2) Installing in-plant improvements designed to keep suspended solids out of the effluent entirely,

(3) Researching some methods of improved control over the odours and colour of our drainage canal.

Being fully aware of our responsibilities in this area we will continue to give these projects high priorities.

Not long ago Life Magazine conducted a poll in the United States enquiring as to what the citizens of that country wanted most. 95% of those responding had at the head of their list green grass, trees and fresh air. I too want to go on record as personally wanting green grass, trees and fresh air and I speak also, I think, for all people living in the continued page 11
