BUS TOUR VISITS SCHREIBER

Mrs. Norma Fummerton convened the turkey buffet luncheon provided for students on the annual tour to the United Nations, which made a rest halt in Schreiber.

There were thirty six students, from Western United States and Canada, selected for the trip on the basis of scholastic endeavour. The event is sponsored annually by the I.O.O.F. and Rebekah Lodges.

This bus will make the return trip via the United States affording the lively youngsters, all in their early teens, not only the opportunity of meeting each other but also of seeing and learning about each other's country.

Favors of scenic cards and pencils were presented to mark the visit to Schreiber.

The official welcome was given by Reeve Fred Harness who remarked that Schreiber has but one industry but a million gestures of hospitality.

Others at the head table who spoke briefly were Rev. E.C. Prinselaar, J.E. Strokes M.P.P., Paul Nance of Spokane, Wash., the tour director, and Mrs. Nance, Mrs. Sibylla Cranston, of Calgary, assistant tour director, Mrs. Mavis Slater, Warden of the Rebekah Assembly of Ontario, Mrs. Christine Morris, N.G. and Mrs. Beth Macadam, V.G., Mrs. Agnes Bryson, of Ruby Rebekah Lodge, J.D. Phillips and Reeve W.E. Cavanaugh, of Terrace Bay.

The students introduced themselves, named their home town, its population and chief industry, evoking occasionally by some slight exaggeration, good natured jibes and applause. Linda Douglas of Washington formally thanked the local lodges for the meal and the rest provided.

Jack Stokes, described the vast riding he represents, its history, its natural resources and future, mentioning also the natural beauty of its many lakes and rivers.

Reeve Cavanaugh spoke of the good will between Schreiber and Terrace Bay and reminded students each time they used a Kleenex they should remember the mill in Terrace Bay.

Mrs. Bryson welcomed the students at the public school where rest facilities were provided prior to the luncheon.

The committee assisting Mrs. Fummerton comprised Mesdames Eirene Harness, Edith Ibey, Alice Sparkes, Ileene Williamson, Beth Macadam and Christine Morris.
