

TERRACE BAY HIGH SCHOOL INITIATION

Terrace Bay High School held a two day initiation to celebrate the birth of new students. On Friday afternoon the initiates were dressed according to the baby theme. The best dressed baby was Richard Smith the cutest was Lois Cornfield: and the funniest was Frances Cook.

There were several races including a tied-together race, teachers' bicycle race and clean-up race. A new item introduced this year was the picking up of scrap paper and broken glass from the school yard and downtown plaza. It is hoped that students will continue to keep our town clean.

After a session of kangaroo court the boys' volleyball team challenged the teachers to a game and defeated them.

The Horizons played at the initiation dance at which there was a great turn out to start the year out with spirit.
