Come one, come all to hear Mr. I. Kozyra of Lakehead University present one of his regular University lectures in Introductory Psychology.

This popular subject is relevant to our current behaviour problem.

Have you considered taking or auditing a University course for personal enlightenment and to help understand current world problems?

Have you considered earning a degree? It can be done by extension courses, making use of Lakehead University Special Adult Admission Requirements.

What are our children learning in University? Come out Friday evening for a first hand exposure.
