

TODAY'S CHILD

This handsome laddie is Gary, 13 months old, Anglo-Saxon and Italian in descent. He has big hazel eyes, medium-brown hair and lovely pink and white skin.

Gary is a good-natured boy, in very good health. He is not a bit demanding, but he does love to be cuddled. He also loves rough games, squealing in excitement when somebody throws him up in the air. With his foster family, he spent the summer at a cottage and was quite fearless about the water.

This baby was slow in developing and rather inactive till about three months ago. He became lively all of a sudden and now is constantly on the go. He crawls at top speed and can stand alone and walk around the furniture.

A loving home where he will receive plenty of stimulation without pressure — that's what he needs. To inquire about adopting Gary please write Today's Child, Department of Social and Family Services, Parliament Buildings, Toronto 182.
